Evolve Co-Directors, Carla Rogers and Aunty Munya Andrews

Regarded by Melbourne University as a 'leading Australian thinker', Aunty Munya Andrews is an accomplished Indigenous author and barrister with degrees in anthropology and law. Educated in Australia and the USA, Munya is fascinated by comparative religions, languages, mythology and science and intrigued by the way in which they interact and inform each other. Her second book, Journey into Dreamtime an easy guide to Aboriginal spirituality that explains Dreamtime concepts in a simple way. Munya's life purpose is to create better understanding and appreciation of Aboriginal people, leaving behind a legacy of Dreamtime wisdom for generations to come.

When most of her friends were having their gap year in Europe in the late 80s, Carla Rogers set off for the remote Kimberley, inspired by a longstanding desire to learn from our First Nations people. In her journey since, Carla continues to evolve innovative solutions for engagement and facilitation. An adventurous and creative soul, Churchill Fellow, highly respected program designer and facilitator, what is most important to Carla is kindness. Her dream is to create an inclusive Australia that honours and respects our First Nations people and culture.

Aunty Munya and Carla make a pretty remarkable team. It's little wonder that they are highly sought after as professional speakers and facilitators that entertain, enthrall and captivate their audiences. They are not to be missed!

You can book Aunty Munya and Carla to design and deliver a highly interactive, engaging session for your team on any topic related to practical reconciliation and for Munya, Indigenous wisdom.
